

fkaCS Professional Learning Workshops

Engaging Newly Arrived and Multilingual Children and Families

What can we do to support stronger engagement and connection to our early learning communities for these children and families?

Community consultations indicate that multilingual and newly arrived families consistently underutilise early childhood services.

This professional learning session is designed to:

- Identify the factors that build strong connections with culturally and linguistically diverse families.
- Reflect on how services environments, cultures, practices, policies and philosophies “speak to” children and families.
- Determine approaches to curriculum design and pedagogy and practice that supports a sense of belonging for children and families.

Australian Professional Standards for Teachers (APST)

- Professional Knowledge:
  - 1.3 Learners with diverse linguistic, cultural, religious and socioeconomic backgrounds
- Professional Practice:
  - 3.7 Engage parents / carers in the educative process
  - 4.1 Support participation of learners
